This journal is a personal tracking tool and does not provide medical advice.

Always follow the guidance of your healthcare team.

Before You Begin

You don't have to fill in every box. This book works for you, not the other way around.

This journal is organized into color-coded sections to help you find what you need quickly:

- Sage green (●) — Treatment Tracking: chemo cycles, daily symptoms, medications, appointments
- Soft blue (●) — Reference & Logistics: care team, insurance, lab results, doctor questions
- Dusty rose (●) — Emotional Support: affirmations, reflections, gratitude

Each page has an entry number instead of a page number, so you can skip around, use pages out of order, or come back to ones you skipped — no rules.

A few things to know:

- This is a tracking tool, not medical advice. Always follow your care team's guidance.
- It's okay to skip days. It's okay to write messily. It's okay to leave things blank.
- The symptom checklist on the Quick Reference page (pages 8–9) is cross-referenced with the Daily Symptom Log, so the two work as one system.
- The checkboxes are pre-labeled so you don't have to invent categories while tired.

However this goes, you are not walking through it unseen.

Call your care team or 911 if you have:

- Fever of 100.4°F (38°C) or higher
- Uncontrolled bleeding
- Severe shortness of breath
- Signs of an allergic reaction (swelling, difficulty breathing, rash)
- Confusion or fainting
- Pain not relieved by your medication

Confirm your exact thresholds with your oncology team; every regimen is different.

What Helped Me Rest:

You do not have to feel brave to be brave.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

Rest is not giving up — it's part of getting through this.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

This treatment is temporary. You are not defined by it.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

It's okay to have a hard day. Tomorrow is a new one.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

You are allowed to ask for help.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

Small steps still move you forward.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

Your body is working hard. Be gentle with it.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

You are more than your diagnosis.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

It's okay to not be okay today.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

You've made it through every hard day so far. That's worth noting.

[Line art: Small illustration]

This means _____ to me today

Take a Moment

What does today's body feel like? What does it need?

Take a Moment

Write about a moment this week when someone showed you care.

Take a Moment

What's one worry you're carrying that you haven't said out loud?

Take a Moment

What's something small that felt good today?

Take a Moment

If you could tell your doctor one thing you haven't yet, what would it be?

Take a Moment

Write a note to the version of you who started this journey.

A Milestone Worth Marking

*Something happened today worth remembering.
Here's what it was, and how I feel.*

Halfway Point

You're halfway through your planned treatment.

What has this journey taught you so far?

Final Treatment Day

*Today was your last scheduled treatment.
Write about this moment — what it means to you.*

One Month Since Treatment Ended

*It's been one month since your last treatment.
How are you doing? What's changed?*
